

A 10x10 heatmap visualization of a 2D Gaussian process regression model. The color scale ranges from dark purple (low values) to yellow (high values). The highest values (yellow) are concentrated in the center of the grid, while the lowest values (dark purple) are at the corners.

Avg certitude

